BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Colombian forces, at 9 a. m. today occupied the town of Tarapaco, on the Putumayo river, 100 miles north of the disputed Amazon river port of Leticia it was announced officially.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Colombia broke off diplomatic relations with Peru today. The move came after Peruvian planes attempted to bomb a Colombian flotilla near the disputed port of Leticia, and Colombian planes repelled the attack in an aerial encounter above the jungle.

Colombia continued disembarking troops in the upper Amazon region and serious fighting appeared likely. Official sources here said the Peruvian bombs were aimed at transports carrying soldiers en route to Sarapaco, 100 miles north of Leticia, but the bombs fell in the Putumayo river and did no damage. It was stated officially that the attack occurred in neutral Brazilian waters before the flotilla reached Colombian territory.

Colombian airplanes commanded by Major Boy, a German flier, drove off the Peruvians in an official announcement said.

Colombia charged Peru with aggression in attacking the transports. A communique issued soon after midnight by the chancellery said:

"In view of the attack by Peruvian forces on a Colombia flotilla navigating in neutral waters completing its mission of policing Colombian territory, the government has ordered the Colombian minister at Lima, Peru, to make formal protest to the Peruvian government against aggression and to ask for his passports immediately."

ALBERT LEGAYE APPOINTED TO CITY COUNCIL

Succeeds M'Bride Who Resigns to Take Post of City Engineer

ALBERT F. LEGAYE, retired, of 121 East Washington avenue, well known Santa Ana property owner was appointed by unanimous action by the city council last night to fill the place on the city board made vacant a few minutes earlier by the resignation of J. L. McBride of the first ward, and took over his duties immediately.

At the same time, McBride was appointed city engineer as of March 1, to succeed DeWitt Dudley, city engineer for the past two years, who handed in his resignation.

The appointment of Legaye came suddenly and without comment from any member of the board, the council having held an afternoon session at which time the names of several Santa Anas had been discussed. When the council met last night it was all ready to make the new appointment.

Legaye was present at the meeting last night and was sworn into office by Dr. City Clerk Mrs. Irma Keeler. He immediately took his place on the board, McBride, who stepped out will not assume his duties as city engineer until March 1, at which time Dudley will leave the city's employ.

Citrus Grower

Legaye has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past eight years. He came here from Corona, where he lived for a number of years and where he has interests in citrus lands. He was a close personal friend of the late E. B. Collier, former councilman and first city manager for Santa Ana, and it was through Collier that he made Santa Ana his home. He lived next door to Collier for several years prior to the latter's death. Aside from that Legaye has several large pieces of property in Santa Ana and is deeply interested in the city's business. He is declared by members of the city council as being an ideal appointment for the

JAP DELEGATE AT GENEVA TO LEAVE FEB. 28

Will Signify First Step in Japan's Withdrawal From League

By MILES W. VAUGHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Foreign Minister Yasuoka Uchida today telegraphed Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese representative at the League of Nations, instructions to depart from Geneva before February 28 on his return to Tokio.

Matsuoka's departure from Geneva will signify Japan's first step toward withdrawal from the league.

It was understood Matsuoka and members of his delegation will return to Japan by way of the United States.

The government desires to receive Matsuoka's personal report on the situation at Geneva before making formal announcement of Japan's withdrawal from further conciliation, the United Press was informed.

In view of the fact Matsuoka probably will visit Washington be-

REALTY BROKER BEFORE SENATE PROBERS TODAY

Committee Seeks to Learn Disposition of Part of Commissions

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—(UP)—An investigating committee of the state senate today sought to determine what disposition Jack G. Kuhrtz, real estate broker, made of $10,000 in cash he withdrew from his bank account after receiving $20,500 commission on sale of land in Ventura county to the state.

Under questioning of Sheridan Downey, attorney for the committee, of which Sen. J. M. Inman is chairman, Kuhrtz admitted he drew a check on his account in the California bank, Los Angeles, and received for it a draft on the Well Fargo and Union Trust company in San Francisco.

He said further he cashed the draft in the northern city in $1000 and $500 bills.

Kuhrtz, subsequently divorced, said that he had been involved in matrimonial difficulties at the time and did not wish his wife to know the disposition of the money. He said he had intended to deposit the sum in a safe deposit box in San Francisco, but later changed his mind and after carrying it with him on his person several days returned to Los Angeles and placed it in a safety deposit box at the Security-First National bank.

Kuhrtz said he could not remember where he stayed in San Francisco during the trip.

Bank Holiday In Reality Is Nine Days

DETROIT, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Michigan's eight day banking holiday will in reality become a nine day holiday if the moratorium continues the full course of time set by the governor.

Startled citizens discovered today that the day following the close of the financial respite is February 22—Washington's birthday—a legal holiday.

Michigan Begins Rebuilding Crumpled Financial Empire Immediately

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 15.—(UP)—Michigan began rebuilding its crumpled financial empire today.

Less than 36 hours after Gov. William A. Coughlin acceded to bankers' pleas and decreed an eight-day holiday, $40,000,000 aid in Detroit and relief measures were taking form all over this peninsular state of 5,000,000 people.

Yesterday, when all the state's 540 banks were ordered closed under an emergency decree "for the preservation of peace, health, and safety," gloom settled over Michigan.

It lifted today before the spiritless guest of aroused industrialists, civic leaders and citizenry.

The name of Henry Ford, through his Ford Automobile company, flickered strangely through the maze of events. Governor Coughlin, from his executive office in Lansing, accused the Ford Motor company of failing to cooperate with the General Motors corporation and the Chrysler corporation in sustaining the Union Guardian Trust Company of Detroit. It was imminent collapse of the Guardian Trust that

121 Workers Affected By Board Slash

Readjustments Become Effective March 1; Hospital Starts Today

EMPLOYEES OF the county who are under control of the board of supervisors, and who receive more than $75 monthly, yesterday received another reduction in pay. The cut adopted yesterday is additional to reductions put into effect last July at the close of the fiscal year. It ranges from 7 to 10 per cent.

The salary readjustment approved yesterday became effective in all departments, with the exception of the county hospital. The new schedule was adopted on motion of Supervisor W. C. Jerome. It did not include salaries of appointive heads of departments. They received their salary slashes shortly after the new board took office and made the routine appointments in January.

Under the new schedule all salaries above $125 per month are cut 10 per cent. Salaries from $125 to $75 were reduced 7 per cent, and salaries under $75 were not affected.

Jerome said that the new schedule would save as much actual cash as the slashes recommended by the recent grand jury, but was made on a more uniform basis and graduated the cuts, placing the greatest savings on the highest salary brackets.

The actual amount of cash saved by the new schedule could not be determined today. Jerome said that in estimating the percentage of reductions the board had not considered the dollars and cents the cut would amount to, and this morning County Auditor William Lambert said that he had just received the new schedule and as yet had not been able to make an estimate of the cash saving.

The pay cut will affect 121 employees at the county hospital and farm, 19 in the county library, 19 each in the health and welfare departments, 5 in the purchasing department, 5 at the detention home, 4 county park employees, 3 employees about the annex and grounds, 16 in the highway department and 5 employees at the county garage.

Following adoption of the new salary schedule, three janitors and their five assistants were reappointed at the revised salaries. Janitors appointed were: Dan Patrick, Joseph R. Moore and Willard Brady. Assistant janitors appointed were: Dora Patrick, Rodney Leonard, Mrs. Willard Brady, Agnes Brady and Miles Leonard. Miles Leonard also will serve as assistant gardener.

YOUNG INSULL IS WITNESS IN SENATE PROBE

Market Investigating Committee Inquires Into Insull Collapse

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(UP)—The senate stock market investigating committee today reached into muddled affairs of the collapsed Insull utilities empire to determine if "any persons in public office" received Insull securities from Samuel Insull, sr., at bargain prices.

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, handed Samuel Insull, jr., a list of persons who shared in a block of $50,000 shares of common stock of Insull Utilities Investments Inc., which was parceled out at $12 per share.

"Do you know of any persons in the list being persons in public office at the time of distribution?" Pecora asked.

"I don't know them all personally," the young witness replied, scrutinizing the list.

Insull told the committee he was not sure that the stock was sold below current quoted values because it may have been distributed before the shares were listed on the Chicago exchange.

Owen D. Young, one of the persons on the list presented by Pecora, was in the committee room. He told questioners he had come to Washington in answer to a subpoena. The list had a notation of $4000 after Young's name.

Also listed was South Trimble, the name of the present clerk of the house of representatives. Trimble was not the house clerk at the time of distribution.

Changes that members of the Insull family slaved for themselves a $28,000,000 "melon" in profits from shares of Insull Utilities Investments, Inc., as that organization was created, were made by Pecora.

The stock sold for $30 on the first day it was quoted on the Chicago stock exchange, Pecora said, and went to $40 the next day. The only stock actually issued on the first day was to the Insull family group. He told Halsey, Stuart and Co., Pecora added, Insull agreed, explaining that the 250,000 block had been subscribed for but not actually issued at that time.

WIFE FILES DIVORCE SUIT IN S. A. COURT

Three Die in Shooting at Downey Schoolhouse as Separation's Aftermath

OLDER SON ESCAPES

Terror-Stricken Children Flee Classroom as Man Amuck With Revolver

DR. VERNON BLYTHE, Santa Ana dentist, today shot and killed his wife, Eleanor and small son, Robert, and then committed suicide, at Downey, shortly after 2 o'clock, according to word received in Santa Ana from the Los Angeles sheriff's office.

According to the meager information received from Downey, the shooting occurred in a classroom at the Galtatin Grammar school.

Dr. Blythe and his wife were estranged, and it is understood Mrs. Blythe recently went to Downey to make her home with her father, L. E. Stants.

According to reports from Downey, Mrs. Blythe was in the school room with her two sons. Dr. Blythe entered the room which was filled with children and walked to within a few feet of his wife, whipped out a revolver and fired point blank, killing Mrs. Blythe instantly.

Ascertaining that his wife was dead Blythe then turned and fired several shots at his older son, Vernon, jr., none of which took effect. By this time the classroom was in a scene of wild disorder, children rushing out the only door in the room and crawling through the windows. Screams of the children could be heard for blocks.

After firing several shots at his older son, Dr. Blythe turned and fired two shots at his younger son, Robert, aged 8, and the boy dropped dead instantly.

With but one bullet left in his revolver, Dr. Blythe placed it

DIAL PHONES TO BE INSTALLED HERE?

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Declaring it was ready to install a "complete and modern system" of communication, the Southern California Telephone company today asked the railroad commission for permission to exercise its franchise in Santa Ana.

Office of the Southern California Telephone company here, when asked for an explanation of the action reported from San Francisco, declared that so far as was known no changes were contemplated in Santa Ana.

Speculation as to the meaning of "complete and modern system" to which the report referred brought to mind the manual dialing type phones such as are now in use in Los Angeles and Garden Grove. Phone company officials here said they had no information on this matter.

FARM RELIEF BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(UP)—A much amended domestic allotment bill simplified in its major provisions and restricted to cotton and wheat was approved today by the senate agriculture committee.

Where the house bill applied to wheat, cotton, hogs, tobacco, buttermilk, dairy products and rice, the senate measure was restricted in the belief it was only an experiment and should be limited in its application.

All provision for acreage control was removed on grounds it would prove over-costly and unworkable. The bounty provisions were stricken to provide the farmer the average 1929-14 price for his products instead of the average pre-war price in proper relation to the goods the farmer must buy.

SENATOR LONG AND BROTHER IN CLASH

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Senator Huey P. Long "is running wild and something ought to be done," his younger brother told a senate subcommittee investigating charges of fraud and corruption in the nomination of Senator-elect John H. Overton.

"I have stood by and refrained from blackening my brother until now," Earl K. Long told the investigators, "but Huey is running wild and something ought to be done. He is not an average human."

Earl Long accused his brother of bribe taking, graft and vote fixing during a four hour session on the witness stand, during which he clashed frequently with the "Kingfish." At one point Huey Long shouted "larr" at his brother and another time announced he intended to prosecute him for perjury.

PROMISING LEAD IN KIDNAPING CRASHES

DENVER, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Another promising lead proved valueless today as the 60th year passed since young Charles Boettcher II, Denver millionaire, was kidnapped for ransom.

Boettcher's wife, who witnessed the abduction and talked with one of the kidnapers, failed to identify a man whom police suspected.

The man was N. W. Mitchell, 37, of Denver, alleged bootlegger, who gave his occupation as garage-man. He is known to intimates as "Red," and as "Pinky."

HAGUE GOVERNMENT DISSOLVED TODAY

THE HAGUE, Feb. 15.—(UP)—The government dissolved the second chamber of parliament today in the midst of unrest in the colonies and financial troubles at home. New elections were set for March 26.

Dissolution was said officially to be due to conflict in parliament over the government's economic policies. The government was defeated recently, but declined to resign.

Queen Wilhelmina's sudden return to Holland from a winter sports resort in Switzerland was believed due more to the economic crisis than to colonial unrest, which was climaxed recently by the bombing of munitiers aboard the cruiser De Zeeven Provinciën.

WILL OPPOSE MOVE TO CLOSE SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 15.—(UP)—Any move to close State Teachers' colleges at Chico, Santa Barbara and Arcata in the present drive to reduce state educational costs will be vigorously opposed, Viroling Kersey, director of education, said today.

Proposals for tuition fees at the teachers' colleges and suggestions that the summer sessions be limited also were disapproved by Kersey.

Retrenchment in teachers' college activities was suggested to the state senate as an economy step in a report by Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of finance.

GOVERNOR ROLPH TO RESUME WORK SOON

SAN JOSE, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Ordered by his physicians to continue resting this week, Gov. James Rolph, Jr., has postponed until Saturday his return to Sacramento.

The governor, recuperating from a recent attack of influenza, has remained in seclusion at the Riverview ranch near Santa Clara since his release from a San Francisco hospital.

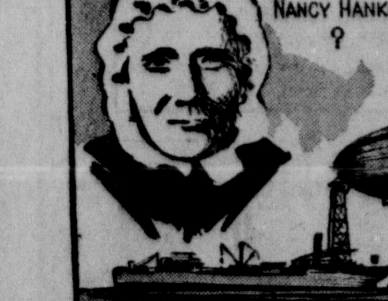

Preferring to stay "closer to Sacramento," he declined an invitation of Matt Sullivan, former chief justice of the state supreme court, to visit Palm Springs.

STOCK EXCHANGES IN JAPAN CLOSED

TOKIO, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Stock exchanges throughout Japan suspended trading this afternoon following the closing of the Tokyo Stock Exchange at 1 p. m.

Collapse in the price of new stock in the Tokio Stock Exchange caused wild confusion at noon, resulting in an order for the suspension of trading for the remainder of the day. It was understood all exchanges would remain closed tomorrow.

CHARGES ENGLAND KEEPS PRICES DOWN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Charges that Great Britain is attempting to "keep world prices down so as to reduce debtors capacity to pay" were made before the senate prosperity seeking committee today by Rene Leon of New York, monetary expert.

Leon charged that Britain was using such a "ruthless policy" in order to obtain readjustment of her war debts on a reduced basis.

Leon, a retired financier and recently technical advisor to the house coinage committee, asserted Britain is carrying out such operations through a $100,000,000 "secret exchange equalization fund," purchasing gold currencies in the exchange market and thus obtaining "control of the dollar exchange and consequently the control of American prices."

A. T. & T. DECLARES REGULAR DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—American Telephone & Telegraph company, world's largest corporation, today voted to continue the $9 annual dividend rate in effect for the past 12 years.

A regular quarterly dividend of $2.25 a share was declared on the capital stock, payable April 15 to stockholders of record March 14.

Directors also elected Charles Francis Adams, secretary of navy, a director, to fill a vacancy.

Governor Makes A Correction

(An Editorial)
Yesterday in discussing the situation in Michigan, and basing our editorial upon the statement of Michigan's Governor, we criticized Mr. Ford of the Ford Motor company. The Governor today corrects this, and admits that he misunderstood the situation.

It seems that the General Motors and the Chrysler people did not attempt to enter into an agreement with Mr. Ford; that Mr. Ford had, as he says, invested some $20,000,000 in the Guardian Trust, and he did not feel called upon to make any further investment in it.

The Governor's statement yesterday would make it appear that they were endeavoring to prevent a withdrawal temporarily, until they could get help from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The statement today would make it appear that there was an attempt to get Mr. Ford to put more money in. The two things are entirely different.

We hope that the Governor is correct in his statement now, which would free Mr. Ford from the imputation of unwillingness to co-operate with others.

2000 JOBLESS IN DEMAND FOR FOOD

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Two thousand unemployed, including many women and children, camped through the night on the second floor of the county-city building and today asked more groceries, and gasoline for a pilgrimage to the state capitol to seek $40 a month for each family.

The crowd was orderly and police withdrew when the unemployed appointed their own police. A committee of 50 took food donated by restaurants.

ROLPH RECALL HELD UP BY COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 15.—(UP)—Circulation of recall petitions against Governor Rolph will be delayed until after the senate investigation committee completes its public hearings, the executive committee of the California State Grange announced here today.

"The committee took this action to avoid any interference with the splendid work being done by the senate committee in exposing to the people some of the practices of the present state administration," George Schmeidler, master of the State Grange, said.

"The committee felt that the people of California are entitled to have all the information available regarding the administration activities."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 15. (To the Editor of The Register.) Mr. Hoover, who we looked to for a little encouragement in his radio talk give us the worst news that's hit us yet—he said the Republicans are coming back.

And by the way, here is one thing I want somebody to explain to me, why it is during a campaign, after a campaign, or at any other time, why can't our Presidents speak of each other by name and say, "Well, I wish Mr. So and So well, he is a fine man and will make you a good President," or to have the victor say, "He had a hard time, and did the very best he could have under the circumstances." Even small town mayors have been known to speak of each other complimentary, but if Presidents ever did it I think we would drop dead.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

position one that will add strength to that body.

LeGaye is not lacking in experience, for a number of years ago he served as councilman on the Corona city board, being a member of that board at the same time Collier was a member here.

Although four important changes were made in the city government last night, all were made smoothly. There was no discussion among the members on McBride's resignation, his appointment as city engineer, the appointment of LeGaye or the acceptance of the resignation of Dudley. Dudley was not present at the meeting, having asked to be excused to attend a meeting in Los Angeles.

On leaving the board, McBride, who has served the city for the past six years, declared that he had derived great pleasure at being able to serve in the capacity that he had had, and that his work with the present board had been pleasant at all times.

Mayor Paul Witmer declared that although his views and the views of McBride on many matters had not always been the same, that he admired McBride for his ability and that his services had been a big aid to the council. E. G. Warner, councilman, was even more frank in his remarks concerning McBride. He declared that without the advice of McBride, as a hold-over councilman, the new council would have found itself floundering at many times. He said he thought the present system was wrong, that two councilmen should be elected at one time and three at another, so that there always would be hold-over council members to guide the new members. He declared the co-operation McBride had shown was "nothing short of wonderful."

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger and William Penn also made complimentary remarks to the outgoing official. Following these remarks the council as a whole gave a vote of thanks to McBride for his services.

The nomination of LeGaye was made by Councilman William Penn and was seconded by A. C. Hasenjaeger; McBride's resignation was next acted on. Hasenjaeger moved that it be accepted and Warner seconded the motion; Hasenjaeger moved for the acceptance of Dudley's resignation as engineer and his motion was seconded by Penn. McBride's appointment as engineer was moved by Hasenjaeger and seconded by Penn. It is understood that appointment of LeGaye was recommended by McBride.

Local Briefs

Clifford Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Erickson, 1815 Cypress street, who was injured in an accidental shooting which occurred during a hunt near Escondido last Sunday, is reported making satisfactory progress. Erickson underwent treatment in an Escondido hospital after the accident and doctors estimated he had received a discharge of 75 birdshot, which scattered to all parts of his body. None of the shot inflicted serious injury, the examination revealed.

QUICK! STOP THAT COLD IN THE DRY OR FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through 8 stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. It is twice as easy stopped in the first stage. In fact, when a cold gets beyond the first stage it may become serious.

DECLARES CITRUS SHIPMENT CONTROL IS IMMEDIATE WAY TO ALLEVIATE DIFFICULTIES

A complete analysis of the economic condition and the stabilization of the summer orange industry was given yesterday afternoon by Dr. H. R. Wellman, of the University of California. His address concluded a two day session of the Orange County Citrus Grower's Institute that was held in the Anaheim Union High school and attended by 1000 interested citrus growers.

He named seven points as worthy of consideration in studying the economic aspects of surplus control with particular reference to the summer orange industry. The points are as follows:

"1. Regulation of shipments as to quantity, quality, time and place affords a means of immediately alleviating the difficulties of surplus production of California summer oranges while the more slowly operating factors of an increase in demand, a reduction in marginal acreage, a decrease in the cost of marketing, and a decrease in the cost of production are correcting the situation.

"2. Growers controlling at least 90 per cent of the summer oranges produced in California should participate.

"3. In years of surpluses adequate regulation of shipments as to quantity necessitates limitations of the volume of packed fruit marketed in the United States. In 1932 a reduction of 20 per cent in the packed fruit shipments to domestic markets would have resulted in an increase of about 35 per cent in the returns per acre.

Limit Low Grades
"4. Limitation of shipments should apply first to the sizes and grades selling at the lowest prices. If in 1932 all lower grade fruit smaller than 216s and all first grade fruit smaller than 288s had been withheld from the market, the returns per acre would have been about 5 per cent higher than if the same quantity reduction had been applied proportionately to all grades and sizes.

"5. In a year when the surplus is large and the crop is of average or better than average quality, a portion of the fruit ordinarily shipped as first grade will have to be withheld from the market if returns per acre are to be substantially increased. In 1932, a season of poorer than average quality, lower grade fruit which sold at prices below the least desirable sizes of first grade fruit constituted less than 12 per cent of the total shipments of all sizes and grades.

"6. Careful regulation of shipments from week to week and between markets to insure the maintenance of trade confidence and the avoidance of temporary gluts is even more advantageous in years of surplus production than in normal years.

"7. If shipments are limited in only those years in which surpluses are actually present and a quantity no larger than the surplus is withheld from the market, it is not likely to fore proceeding to Tokyo, it was considered unlikely that Japan's resignation from the league would occur before the latter part of April.

A meeting of the cabinet was called at 4 p. m. to discuss yesterday's activities at Geneva, including the league's rejection of Japan's refusal to recognize China's nominal sovereignty over Manchuria.

When cabinet meeting adjourned Premier Makoto Saito went at once to the imperial palace where he was received by Emperor Hirohito. It was understood his visit was for the purpose of obtaining approval of the appointment of Juraiah Iitasa as minister of the imperial household, succeeding Dr. Kitokuro Ikkai.

The foreign office indicated that Matsuoaka has been instructed to deliver a final speech at Geneva, reiterating Japan's position in the Manchurian dispute. This will probably be made immediately after the league assembly adopts the recommendations of the committee of 19 next week.

RUSSIA PREPARING TO EXILE COSSACKS

MOSCOW, Feb. 15.—(UP)—The entire population of 10 Cossack settlements in the North Caucasus was warned today that the government was considering their wholesale exile into Siberia. The communities have been officially blacklisted for failure to deliver seeds for the spring sowing. Blacklisting amounts to a vital economic boycott.

Former Resident Called by Death

News of the death of Mrs. Jane S. Mason, 71, former resident of Santa Ana, was received here today. She died in Merrill, Oregon, where she had made her home since moving there from Santa Ana in 1904.

Born in Washington county, Ohio, Mrs. Mason had settled in Santa Ana in 1888, where she lived for 16 years.

She is survived by a son, Elmer S. Mason, and a daughter, Mrs. Laura M. Carr, both of Merrill.

WIFE CHARGES
THREATS MADE
Charging extreme cruelty and alleging threats against her safety, Mrs. Eleanor Blythe has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Dr. Vernon M. Blythe, Santa Ana dentist. She has also asked the court to issue a restraining order to prevent her husband from harming or interfering with her or the couple's youngest son who is living with her, or disposing of any community property.

In her complaint, Mrs. Blythe is asking for temporary alimony of $150 monthly until after trial of the divorce suit, custody of both children and funds sufficient for their support. She declared in her complaint that there is personal property of which she has been kept in ignorance.

The Blythes were married in 1918 in Long Beach and separated last Monday. She charged that the younger son is with her and that her husband told their oldest boy that if he did not stay with him he would kill her.

Shortly after their marriage, according to Mrs. Blythe's complaint, she moved to Clifton, Arizona, with her husband and a short time after their arrival Dr. Blythe threw her into a closet and threatened to kill her. She left him and did not return until her father interceded on behalf of Blythe, she said.

She also accused her husband of calling her vile and obscene names in the presence of their children, servants, friends and relatives and with referring to her family in an insulting manner.

She cited several instances of threats he made to kill her and alleged that one night he threw her out of the bed and chased her through the house forcing her to flee, in her night gown, to the home of a neighbor where she remained until her father came and took her to his home in Downey. Dr. Blythe also is accused of having struck his wife.

Volume Vital Factor
"The volume of shipment is the dominant thing and pro-rating volume is a more important factor than size and prices."

His speech was preceded by a talk given by John W. Crill, state delegate to the California Farm Bureau Federation, representing Orange county. His subject was "Should Farmers Have an Organization to Represent Them and Protect Their Interests?" Illustrating his talk with many experiences based upon past events he upheld the necessity of such organization.

The last talk of the institute was delivered by L. B. Smith, assistant director of the extension work at Berkeley. He spoke on the "Economic Element in Co-operation," and declared that co-operative marketing is based upon human relationship.

Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor for Orange county, announced at the conclusion of the session that he had given permission by the committee working on the pro-rate agreement to publicly state that chances for an ultimate conclusion for arrangements of a pro-rate plan between associations is better by far than it has been before and that the committee is very encouraged.

SENATE VOTES CONSIDERATION OF REPEAL ACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(UP)—The senate today voted to begin immediate consideration of a compromise prohibition repeal resolution drafted by its judiciary committee.

The vote was made possible when the leadership broke the back of a determined dry filibuster through threats of continuous session and a drastic closure on debate.

The vote was 58 to 23. Minority Leader Robinson immediately offered a substitute amendment providing for outright repeal and ratification by state conventions.

A resolution of this type was offered in the house by Speaker Garner the first day of the session, but was defeated by a handful of votes.

The agreement for a vote was reached after the leadership by strong-arm methods last night throttled an eight-hour filibuster by Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, co-author of the eighteenth amendment. They were prepared to resort to cloture and more night sessions if the filibuster was revived.

Sheppard spoke against time, in an effort to delay a vote on the Blaine motion to consider repeal until the senate became sick of the subject and turned to something else. He didn't say a word about the merits of prohibition or repeal. He spoke on the League of Nations.

As the speech wore on into the evening his small audience dwindled.

Senators began to return in playful mood and the heckling began. Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who earlier had demanded exhaustive discussion of the Macedonian situation, asked Sheppard's opinion of the far eastern developments.

Sheppard accepted the questions in good humor. He spoke from 1:35 p. m. to 10 p. m. with only a half hour's intermission. He had no supper, but munched candy supplied by Senator Lewis, Democrat, Illinois. Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, an ardent wet, brought him water and assured him it contained no alcohol.

The break in Sheppard's speech occurred when Tydings, though a wet, moved to table the Blaine motion so the senate could proceed with relief and other pressing legislation. He was voted down 83 to 28 after Minority Leader Robinson led an attack on the filibuster and demanded the senate test its strength.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 15.—(UP)—The fate of William James (Curley) Guy, 28-year-old adventurer, was expected to be placed with a jury late today after final pleas of counsel conclude his trial on a charge of murdering Capt. Walter Wanderswell.

Save for final arguments, the prosecution wound up its case late yesterday by introducing rebuttal witnesses to attack the young Welshman's personally spoken defense that on the night of the killing he was in Glendale, 40 miles away.

Guy spent less than two minutes on the stand. Coolly but emphatically, he related his alibi of being a visitor at the home of Edward De Larm, Indian airplane pilot, for whom he said he worked as a mechanic. On cross-examination, he said he retired at De Larm's home between 8 and 8:15 p. m. The time of the murder has been established at 9:20 p. m.

MILK CONTROL PLAN BEING CONSIDERED

Dr. W. J. Kurt, chairman of the Los Angeles Milk Arbitration board, is in Santa Ana today attending a joint meeting of milk producers and distributors of Orange county in an effort to stabilize the industry. He is outlining the stabilization program suggested for the Los Angeles milk shed which included Orange county.

Kurt, in his talk to the dairymen and distributors is explaining the plan which covers methods for control of surplus milk and cream and provided a code of ethics governing distribution of the surplus and contracts providing for distribution of this surplus and division of expenses. This contract is to be signed by both distributors and producers.

A conference at Lansing late last night between Governor Comstock and numerous bankers, particularly telephonic, failed to result in a definite decision as to modification of the governor's decree.

Gov. Comstock late yesterday clarified the part Henry Ford played in negotiations preceding the moratorium proclamation, by stating he had "misunderstood" the position of the motor manufacturer.

Gov. Comstock's statement, similar to information from an authoritative Washington source, was to the effect that Ford was unwilling to put up a "substantial part of the necessary funds" to preserve the Union Guardian Trust company, the condition of which caused the governor's holiday order.

Earlier the governor had said he was informed Ford refused to join other large depositors in an agreement to make their claims subordinate to those of small depositors and to the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Such a concession was required for a proposed loan.

In his subsequent statement, Comstock corrected an impression that a battle between Ford and the competing Chrysler and General Motors corporation figured in the deal.

BUILDERS URGE CONTRACTS ON AQUEDUCT JOB

Opposing the day labor method of construction of the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct as being wasteful and uneconomic, the Orange County Builders Exchange, meeting last night in Ketter's cafe, urged officials of the district to adopt the policy of performing the work only under definite contract through competitive bidding.

The recommendation was made through the adoption of a resolution, offered by Allison Honer of Santa Ana. The resolution pointed out that because the project entails expenditure of $220,000,000 of public funds to be derived by taxation on all real property in the district, it is the duty of the officials to construct the aqueduct at a minimum cost to taxpayers.

Experience in the past has shown that the contract method is more economical than day labor method of construction on public works, the document stated.

The resolution asked that the contracts awarded be divided into portions which may be handled by those responsible contractors whose place of business, or residence, has been established in the district for at least six months and that a good and sufficient bond be required for the proper performance.

It also was asked that in place of purchasing various equipment necessary for fulfilling the contracts, that such equipment be drawn from the Metropolitan Water District in the same proportion as is the labor.

LEAGUE GAS TAX BILL ENDORSED

The Santa Ana city council, last night passed resolution, offered by J. L. McBride, endorsing the League of California Municipalities' gasoline tax bill, now before the state legislature.

The council had endorsed the league's bill before, but not since it had appeared in printed form.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to Nelson T. Edwards, senator, James B. Utt and Ted Craig, assemblymen from this county.

The resolution points out that the council believes the bill will provide a more equitable distribution of the gasoline tax funds and that taxes can be reduced in a big way if the plan is adopted, thereby causing a great savings to the taxpayers.

ENGINEER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

John Secrest, of 422 South Ross street, an engineer at the high school heating plant, had a narrow escape from death last night in a mysterious explosion in the boiler room that damaged the building and an iron jacket surrounding the boiler.

Secrest was seated at his desk only a few feet away making out a report at the time. The force of the explosion hurled him several feet from the desk, but he was not injured. He quickly jumped up and began shouting out water taps. Several were extremely hot and he was burned about the hands in so doing.

Firemen, rushing to the scene fearing a fire would result, gave Secrest first aid treatment. He was not badly hurt.

First reports were to the effect that the boiler had exploded, but these were found not to be true. The boiler remained intact. The explosion, caused by something which officials have not as yet been able to determine, occurred between the boiler and the steel jacket which surrounds it. The explosion was outward and in some miraculous manner the boiler was not damaged.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the explosion, according to George Newcom, business manager for the city schools, who said it would be late today before anything definite was learned. Several experts from Los Angeles, together with insurance men were to inspect the damage this afternoon.

The inside of the boiler building was badly damaged and a number of windows were blown out. The loss is tentatively set at approximately $500.

The blast, which rocked the neighborhood, was heard throughout the city.

BELIEVES FRUIT SIZE AVERAGE WILL BE 244

Making his annual prediction regarding the sizes of oranges in the 1933 Valencia crop, Dr. D. D. Waynick, head of the Association Laboratory of Anaheim, today announced calculations predicting the oranges this year will run 244, plus or minus eight, fruits per box.

During the past five years, size predictions made by Dr. Waynick have been remarkably accurate, having been based on a monthly study of the growth rates, figures reveal.

An average difference between predicted and actual fruit shipped for the five year period, is 2.2 oranges per box.

In a monthly report, Dr. Waynick declared that it is hoped that a stabilization program for the coming Valencia crop may result in a less close agreement this year with the average at least for the last five years.

Dr. Waynick makes the size predictions six months in advance of picking time.

Growth of both outside and inside fruits during the period from January to February 10 were very little above that recorded for last year, which was the smallest recorded since measurements started, according to the report.

MOTHER OF SANTA ANA WOMAN DIES

Following an invalidism which had endured for the past 15 years, but which became alarming within the past two weeks, death came last night at a La Verne sanitarium to Mrs. Mary Robnett Shaw, mother of Mrs. John V. Minihan, 11151-2 North Broadway.

Mrs. Shaw had been a resident of California for the past 20 years, coming here from her home in Columbia, Mo. For several years past she had made her home in or near Pomona, and final services will be held for her tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Todd and Reeves chapel in Pomona, by the Rev. Gordon Palmer, pastor of Pomona First Baptist church, of which she was a faithful member.

Mrs. Minihan was summoned to her mother's bedside yesterday, and another daughter, Mrs. D. M. Payne of Fulton, Mo., who had been notified Sunday of her mother's turn for the worse, left at once for California and is expected to arrive tonight. P. F. Shaw of San Francisco, a son, also will arrive tonight in response to a telegram telling of his mother's death.

BIG WORRY AT WASHINGTON NOW IS WHO WILL BE FIRED; MANY $5000 JOBS AVAILABLE

By Rodney Dutcher
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The boys and girls in the government service are more than usually busy these days because they have to spend so much time wondering what will happen to various individuals among them after the fourth of March.

They have divided between two schools of thought—optimists and pessimists.

The principal source of speculation is whether the forthcoming change in political control will result in a readoption of the spoils system in a moderate way or in really drastic fashion.

Of course there are thousands of jobs which the administration in any event will take away from their present occupants to give to clamoring Democrats.

But two important questions remain to be answered: To what extent will the Democrats remove officials and other employees now under civil service? And, to what extent, if any, will the Democrats invade the civil service in order to get at various jobs now under its protection?

Most federal employees need not worry, since roughly four-fifths of them are in the classified civil service and there is no thought of a complete replacement. But there are 110,000 jobs not so classified—including a large group of unskilled labor which presumably will not be affected—and no one knows how far down that line the administration will dare to cut.

And there is also the possibility that quite a few of the better jobs now under civil service will be moved from that protection. Upon the return of the Democrats and Republicans to power in 1913 and 1921—especially in the Harding administration—both parties were rather ruthless about it.

Among the bureau and division chiefs and other minor officials are many who, whether with long service or not, have become regarded as competent experts in their fields, removed from politics. No one knows the extent to which their jobs will be raided.

A president has the power to strengthen or weaken the civil service. Wilson in his eight years strengthened it considerably. Harding weakened it, especially by his removal of about 15,000 postmasters from the civil service list.

President-elect Roosevelt, re-

Attorneys Oppose Abolishment Of Court of Appeals

Meeting in special session, the Orange County Bar association has adopted a resolution opposing a bill introduced in the state legislature to abolish the fourth district court of appeals. Copies of the resolution were sent to each of Orange county's representatives in the state legislature.

In the resolution it was pointed out that the fourth district court appeals has functioned for three years and has done substantial justice and equity among litigants, and that the location of the court has been for the convenience of litigants and materially reduced the expense of litigation.

The resolution recommended to the state legislature that all bills seeking to eliminate the court be defeated and that proper legislation be adopted to continue the fourth district court of appeals as now located and constituted.

MAKE CHANGES IN BOUNDARIES OF TOWNSHIPS

Township lines were shifted yesterday by the board of supervisors through adoption of a new ordinance setting boundaries of all political townships in the county. The shifting of township lines was done to correct a situation that existed in practically every township in the county: that of highways being included in two townships. The lines were moved to include highways in one township only.

A resolution submitted by the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War was read to the board during the afternoon session but no action was taken.

The resolution asked that the board of supervisors urge representatives of this district in Congress to oppose any attempt to reduce veterans' relief legislation.

In the resolution the disabled veterans' organization pointed out that any reduction of national relief measures would throw the burden of caring for disabled veterans onto the various states and that at present 25 per cent of all disabled American veterans are living in California this state's burden would be terrific.

SITE OWNERS, P. O. OFFICIAL TO MEET

CONSIDER PLAN TO ELIMINATE LOOSE FRUIT

A 11-point plan designed to eliminate place pack and loose fruit from all channels of trade was being presented to directors of naval packing associations today following a meeting of 250 citrus men at Pomona Monday night.

Ninety-five per cent control of the navel output is sought. If the plan proves a success, it will be extended to take in Valencia oranges, it is conceded.

Following is the plan approved by the citrus men:

"1. (a) All naked or place packed fruit shall be eliminated from all channels of trade. (b) All fruit below choice grade shall be eliminated from all channels of trade. (c) All naked fruit shall be eliminated from all channels of trade except Los Angeles and other Southern California points and all fruit sold in that area shall be sold subject to authority of the control board and through a distributing agency.

"2. All low grades of fruit not authorized for sale shall be disposed of under the supervision of the control board.

"3. (a) A control board of five members shall be appointed, consisting of packing house managers and they shall be given authority to carry on the details of the plan.

"4. The control board shall set up the necessary organization to assist in the sale of fruit within the prescribed area and disposal of the balance.

"5. All fruit other than packed fruit sold in Los Angeles shall be sold in packing boxes and shall be sold through one central agency. Each shipper at his option shall supply his pro-rata share of the total supply, which shall be determined by the control board from day to day.

"6. Sales in citrus belt communities shall be for local consumption only under regulations set up by the control board.

"7. No other sales of loose fruit will be authorized.

"8. The elimination of fruit shall be in specified areas as determined by the control board and under its supervision.

"9. All participants agree to stand their pro-rata share of the expenses for the operation of this control plan on the basis of the total tonnage of navel oranges shipped after the effective date of this plan.

"10. This plan shall become effective when signed by shippers controlling 95 per cent of the carlot shipments of navel oranges in Southern California and shall be effective for the balance of the present navel season.

"11. In the event any unit desires to withdraw from this agreement it shall give to the control board two weeks' written notice of its intention before withdrawal of board shall so notify all signers of those who violate the above agreement and those who refuse to sign said agreement. If the percentage falls below 90 per cent, the remaining members shall call a meeting to determine whether the plan shall be continued."

TO RESERVE STREET FOR SKATING PARTY

Another city street will be reserved tonight for youths of school age in another skating party scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard announced today that children would meet at Fruit and Polcastia streets. Part of a street in that locality will be closed to traffic and the school children, given full away.

Two skating parties held in the north end of the city proved highly successful. Members of the Santa Ana junior police will have charge of the party tonight, to keep order. Plans for the party were made by Frances Willard Junior High school students.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallen

INVESTIGATION

Inefficiency rather than dishonesty seems to have been the worst sin of the Senate stock market investigators.

Committee members have left matters largely to Chairman Norbeck. They will not be awarded any medals for bravery but they do have the legitimate excuse that they were tied up with other matters. Norbeck would probably admit that he knows as little about Senate investigating as anyone in the Senate. He knows even less about banking and the stock market. He is a shrewd and worthy public official but his talents and experience are admittedly in other lines.

That is the real root of the trouble raised by the New York group which wants the Senate to investigate the investigators.

Even before the complaint was made blunders became so frequent that some Senators became personally alarmed about where Norbeck was leading them. They had a confidential session with him, saying bluntly that what he was doing and not doing was reflecting unjustly on all members of the Committee.

Norbeck told them some of his troubles also. It was all very confidential but it may be related now to give you a glimpse of what went on backstage. His investigators apparently dug up some red hot tax evasion cases. At least they thought they were red hot. The Treasury did not think they were even lukewarm. Treasury officials warned Norbeck to watch his step and the steps of his investigators or the Government would get into trouble.

The investigators thought Norbeck was calling them off. They suspected Wall Street, rather than Treasury influence.

This is the explanation why two Committee investigators resigned. At least it is the explanation Norbeck privately gave his associates. They never doubted his integrity and do not now.

He received several letters from retired investigator David A. Olson. He claimed they were abusive. His Committee told him to go ahead and fire Olson if he wanted to. He was afraid it would bring too much bad publicity. In the end Olson quit, protesting that the Committee was trying to whitewash Wall Street.

That charge can almost be substantiated by the inconsequential record the Committee itself has made in its inquiry.

So little was made of the matter because no one here knew the pedigree of the New York complainants. The Committee suspected that its own retired investigators were behind the move.

REPEAL
Lack of leadership is what is at the bottom of all this current prohibitory horseplay.

Democratic Floor Leader Robinson is known not to sympathize with the bare repeal idea of the party platform. Construction of the legislation was left to a progressive lame duck, Senator Blaine. He did the best he could but he did not have the power of the Democratic Party behind him. Senator Pat Harrison jumped in to push the Blaine resolution as far as the Senate floor. The situation called for something more than that.

To make matters worse the wets split among themselves. The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment started attacking the Blaine resolution because it was the Republican not the Democratic plan. That is also the view Speaker Garner rightly holds. He will not accept anything the Senate does except straight repeal and the Senate will not give him that. No final action can be taken in Congress until Mr. Roosevelt assumes public leadership of the disorganized forces.

BARUCH
The man behind the Harrison investigation was its first witness—Bernard M. Baruch.

Up to now he has been lightly treated for a man who gave $40,000 to the Democratic campaign. His closest friends assert he has not been consulted by Mr. Roosevelt about the Cabinet. Neither has he been offered a place in it. He would not accept and Mr. Roosevelt probably knows that.

His Warm Springs conference with the President-elect was on his economic recovery ideas.

PROGRAM
Congressional leaders are privately willing to confess now that all they hope to get through in the remaining days before March 4th is the Bankruptcy Bill.

Hopes are still being held out for farm mortgage relief and the Glass Bank Bill. A little phlegm might be done to get them through but the chances are strongly against it.

Recent widespread criticism of Congress has had little effect among the boys in the pit.

NOTES
The confidential Roosevelt program now calls for Congress to assemble the middle of March. The date has been moved up from April 17 because the program of the President-elect will be ready earlier than had been expected. With all this cry for legislation in Congress Senator Fess took time out last week to deliver his first speech of the session entitled "Our Treasures in the Congressional Library." Senator King is daily living up to his title of Treasury watchdog, trying to pass each item in the appropriation bills. No one knows more about them. The Grain Trade lobby has issued only one public statement since it set up its stand here. . . It works in other ways.

NEW YORK
By James McMullen

R. F. C.

Jesse Jones of Houston, Texas will head the R.F.C. as decisions stand now. Baruch backs him. Relief financing in the land of cotton is a reasonable expectation.

COTTON

Cotton speculators get a psychological boost out of the fact that Curtis Dill—Roosevelt's son-in-law—has joined the Cotton Exchange. They figure he must know something.

LONG

Huey Long's recent visit to New York has caused some lively guessing contests around town. The Kingfish is usually not exactly averse to publicity—was strangely quiet about his little excursion. Much of his time was spent in conferences with some of the cotton moguls. None of them would discuss what really brought the Senator from Louisiana to this ballgame.

INVESTIGATION

Senators will probably not pay too much attention to the self-styled New York Stock Exchange Reform Committee of the Manhattan Board of Commerce—which threatens to investigate the Senate's investigation. The organization has a checkered and not too impressive career. Some of its sponsors have private reasons for not liking the Stock Exchange.

The inquiry into National City affairs is at present based on the premise that a lot of people lost money in National City stock. The bank says: "So what?" to that. But a slight turn of the wheel could bring up Anaconda and there is lots about that stock's rollercoasting which hasn't yet been told.

GERMANY

New York learns from high German sources that the Nazi comeback has been financed with Hohenloher cash. When the industrialists withdrew financial support some months ago it looked like curtains but the Royal Family came to the rescue. That private army of 700,000 would come in handy—in case.

The next important development in German policy may be a coup to recover the Polish corridor—a sore point which is getting sorer. If they get away with it the Hohenloher cash could be invited to do an encore.

Bavaria does not regard this prospect with a kindly eye and would probably take a shot at seceding from the Reich. She would have French moral—and perhaps military—support.

Von Papen may not be the check on Hitler that Hindenburg intended. He has been working more closely with the brown shirt leader lately.

The blunt rebuke which Hermann Wilhelm Goering, member of the German Cabinet and Hitler's closest associate administered to one of the leading Swedish newspapers is part of a deep Nazi scheme. The unusual step by a man who is not even Foreign Minister supplemented by an official complaint from the German Minister to Sweden is bound to disturb German-Swedish relations. At present this would hurt Sweden more than Germany.

The Germans regard the incident merely as an entering wedge to "persuade" Sweden to get rid of the Soviet Ambassador Alexandra Kollontai. Mme. Kollontai is not only one of the Soviet's ablest diplomats but probably the most formidable Communist organizer. From her post in Stockholm she has taken an important part in the affairs of the German Communist party. Hitler and his associates regard her as a most annoying thorn in the flesh. If the Communists should be outlawed in Germany Mme. Kollontai's office would become headquarters of the exiles.

OIL

France has been buying oil lately from American producers on a lavish scale. Also she rigorously enforces a ruling that all oil companies operating in France must keep inventories on hand equal to the average inventories of the five boom years preceding the depression. All the important French oil companies but one are owned by Americans, Dutch or British interests. France has no oil supply of her own available in case of war. France has also made it harder for Italy to get oil. Most of Italy's oil purchases for the last few years have been made from Roumania. Now the Italians find that Roumanian prices have been hoisted, shipments are delayed or damaged and other obstacles are placed in the way. What France says to Roumania goes but France is careful to avoid overt acts.

MORTGAGES

Announcement of the plan to rescue the mortgage companies and the hold: of mortgage bonds was held up by discussion among participating interests as to details. But Our Nell is now reasonably safe.

A man who has had something to do with the negotiations says: "How do we get the nerve to criticize Congress for dilly dallying? Here we are, supposedly hard-headed business men, and we cannot even agree on a measure which is obviously in our self-interest."

A blanket reduction of mortgage interest by savings banks as against the present system of treating cases individually gains in favor. The argument is that a blanket reduction would free purchasing power and help business generally.

Mothers find relief from the burden of colds

When Colds THREATEN With new VICKS PLAN for better CONTROL-OF-COLDS IF a Cold DEVELOPS

THE PROOF..in Results..

In clinical tests among thousands last winter in schools, colleges and homes—Vicks Colds-Control Plan cut the number and duration of colds in half—saved almost two-thirds of the time lost from school due to colds—reduced the costs of colds more than half!...The satisfaction of hundreds of thousands of enthusiastic users confirms these tests.

Vicks Colds-Control Plan was introduced last winter, along with the new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. This new formula is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, standby of mothers for two generations in treating colds—externally.

Together with certain simple rules of health, these preparations form Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. How you can follow it in your home is fully explained in each Vicks package.

BRIEFLY, HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

When colds threaten—At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation—Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once! They soothe the irritation and aid Nature's functions in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

If a cold has developed, Vicks VapoRub—(now available in Stainless form, if you prefer)—is the proved, dependable treatment. Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, its double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker, surer relief. Use of the Nose Drops during the day adds to comfort—helps shorten the cold.

Large Acreage Planted at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 15.—Ranchers in the farm country tributary to Huntington Beach, extending from the coast to the Santa Ana river, are planting a large acreage this year. There will be more diversification of crops, it is said, than during the average year, but the total acreage planted probably will be the largest on record for this area.

The heavy planting is due to the fact that many men are idle and wherever possible have procured acreage to plant. Grain crops will be larger, including barley, oats, corn and there will also be some experimental farming with malt. The bean crop and the pepper crop may not be as large as to the area planted this year. Onions, celery, asparagus, tomatoes and potatoes are likely to be planted over a larger than normal acreage.

TREATMENT FOR NUT GROWERS POTATO SEED OF SOUTHLAND IS OUTLINED HERE EXPERTS

Because many inquiries have been made recently at his office regarding treatment of seed potatoes for planting, A. A. Brock, county agricultural commissioner, made public today the proper method of treatment, as follows:

"For small lots of potatoes such as are used for home plantings, the formaldehyde treatment is usually satisfactory. First, choose potatoes that are as clean as possible, free from scab and from the black surface markings of Rhizoctonia. This is necessary because if any potatoes go through the treatment diseased, it will be because they were seriously diseased at the start. Potatoes should be treated before cutting.

"Add one pint of formalin, the commercial 40 per cent solution of formaldehyde, to 30 gallons of water. Soak the whole tubers for one and a half hours. If the tubers can be sprinkled and kept moist previous to treatment, the soaking can be shortened to a half hour.

"If the hot solution of one pint of formalin to 15 gallons of water is used, the dipping can be from three to four minutes. The temperature of the dip must be kept between 124 degrees Fahrenheit and 128 degrees in the hot solution. After dipping, the potatoes should be covered with sacks and allowed to steep for one hour. Do not use a stronger solution nor treat longer than the directions indicate.

"If large lots of seed potatoes are to be treated by the mercuric chloride treatment, it is best to obtain detailed directions from the office of the agricultural commissioner in the courthouse annex, because this treatment is rather intricate and in order to provide proper precautions in the use of this dangerous poison and in order to keep the strength of the solution uniform."

FOREST GROUP TO VISIT STATE CAMP

The Forest Protective association has set its next meeting for 4 p. m., Friday, at the state labor camp in Santa Ana canyon, according to John Osterman, president of the association. This will afford the members an opportunity of seeing how the camps are organized and the protective work accomplished in the watershed area.

The meeting is called early so that Joe Sherman, state forest ranger in charge of the camp, can show the group around the camp and over the motorway which has been constructed to the top of the ridge. A program, including a two-reel motion picture entitled "What the Forests Mean to You," will follow dinner.

NEW YORK GIRLS KEEP HAIR LOVELY

"I'm so busy; I don't know how I'd take care of my hair if I hadn't learned the way so many of my friends are doing theirs!" Typical of what New York girls by thousands are saying about the new way so many of them are doing their hair to keep it soft, lustrous, and beautiful.

It's so effective. So simple. Just a few dashes of Danderine on the brush each time you arrange your hair. Only film goes. The natural color of your hair is brought out. It takes on new life and sparkle!

The worst crust of dandruff is quickly dissolved by Danderine. It cleanses, soothes, invigorates the scalp. When it is used, hair is easier to dress. Stays in place wonderfully. And day by day Danderine encourages your hair to grow longer, thicker, more abundant.

Trees Planted At Irvine Park

The Santa Ana 4-H Forestry club has attained another goal in the year's program. Under the leadership of John Osterman, the club early in the year undertook the improvement of about five acres of land in Irvine park. Permission to do so was granted by the board of supervisors.

After clearing the land and plowing it, which was a new experience to most of the boys, they divided up into crews, some setting stakes, others digging holes to set the trees in, followed by others setting out trees, with another group carrying water. In this manner, the work of setting out 500 trees progressed rapidly. Two hundred and fifty of these were couter pines, 150 knobcone pines and 100 ponderosa or western yellow pines. This plant of pines will be all for the present, the remainder of this year being eucalyptus, oaks and other native trees and shrubs.

List Growers of Certified Seed

A list of sources of certified seed potatoes in Oregon has been received from E. R. Jackson, extension agronomist of Oregon, and may be had upon application to the farm advisor's office, according to Eric E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor. Those planning to plant potatoes are urged to get good seed potatoes. State certified stock is the best, as it is free from degeneration and diseases than common stock, and also better in quality and productivity, Eastman says. For small plantings, such as the home garden, seed may be procured from any grower in a section known to produce good seed.

for LOVE or MONEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Mona Townsend, beautiful young woman, just married, was not married. Her marriage, arranged by her husband's father, was a strange affair, leaving her free at the end of a year to become her husband's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. Mona, in love with Townsend's nephew, Barry Townsend, agreed to the marriage when she thought Barry was lost to her. She employs Lottie Carr, a fashionable model, as her secretary-companion and they set out for South America where Barry and Steve Saccarelli are partners in a diamond mine. Mona's brother, Bud, works at the mine. Mona hopes for a reconciliation with Barry. She also feels Barry is entitled to a share of his uncle's fortune and wants to find a way to attain this legally.

Learning that Barry and Steve are on vacation at Holiday Island the girls leave their boat at Port of Spain. There they meet Bud who takes them to the hotel where they stay. They arrive at Barry and Steve are at the noon meal. The young men are cordial and greeting Lottie warmly. Mona wishes she had not come. Barry does not ask for explanations and she cannot make them.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XII

The maid had brought Mona and Lottie up the uncarpeted stairs into the wide halls above. From the landing swung a huge window of shutters which, open now and made fast by means of a rope, looked out on a riot of blossoming hibiscus. Intense greens were dotted with crimson, pink and yellow. A soft breeze stirred the trees, sending in showers of perfume.

The rooms on the second floor were high and, above the doors, were latticed to the ceiling. As either side of each door there were shutters spaced to let in air. The effect was one of marvelous coolness.

"You can't tell secrets here!" Lottie remarked, eyeing this arrangement. "Heavens, a whisper would be all over the house. I hope nobody uses an alarm clock."

From the windows of the bedroom they could glimpse the sea. It lay shimmering like a softly waving bit of blue satin rimmed with silver. A necklace of palms fringed the beach and a white boat swung with the lazy tide.

The room contained few pieces of furniture. A huge bed draped with netting stood in the center of the farther wall. There was a dresser, two easy chairs of rattan and a table. Mona noted with satisfaction that the room was lighted with electricity and that the bed had a reading lamp attached to its head.

"But there's no bath!" Lottie cried, pointing to a wash stand. Josie had hung towels about and disappeared with two huge pitchers.

Lottie's room, connecting by door and by outer balcony, was similar to Mona's.

A knock on the door announced the arrival of the baggage and Florence entered, dragging suitcases and hat boxes after her. The boys, she explained, had brought it to the door but it seemed best not to allow them to disturb Madame.

Josie appeared almost immediately carrying pitchers of hot water. Mona and Lottie bathed, opening suitcases in search of pajamas, and finally crept beneath the netting for a rest. They were asleep instantly.

Several hours later Mona awoke suddenly. Lottie, a veritable sea nymph in green, was bending over her.

"I've been out to bathe—not in the sea, just the pool," Lottie announced. "Josie told me about it. The boys have a sort of sunken bath behind the house. It's as large as a baby swimming pool, with showers rigged up and everything. It's great!"

Half an hour later, wearing cool chiffon and dainty shoes, Mona descended the stairs. Lottie had reached the terrace just before her and sat at a small table, the silver service in front of her, quizzing the boys about their tea.

Josie, the maid, arrived with tinkling ice. Mona supposed that this must have been brought from a distant port at great expense until Lottie explained that the kitchen was outfitted with a electric refrigerator. She had made a second tour of investigation and was prepared to answer questions.

Barry and Steve, in fresh linens and sleek of hair, rose as Mona approached. It was cool on the terrace. The glare of the sunlight was softened and a gentle breeze played.

"Tea, Mona," Lottie inquired. She was perfectly at home here. "Hot or cold?"

"Cold," Mona decided. "I don't see how anyone can drink hot tea here," observed Lottie. "There is lemon or lime. Which do you prefer?"

"Let me arrange her place, Lottie," Barry said. He put down the plate of tiny cakes and took possession of the tea table. "I know what Mona likes."

It was a small courtesy yet it made Mona's heart leap as she watched. The long months seemed suddenly to have faded. She had never—really been married to Barry's uncle. Here they were—she and Lottie, Barry and Steve—on an outing just as they had been so often before.

Things would be all right, she was sure. Barry would forgive her for everything. Some time very soon she could explain all that had happened. Now she would relax and enjoy herself.

Her dream was broken abruptly. Barry held the tumbler docketed with mint out to the maid and, indicating Mona, said, "Give this to Mrs. Townsend."

Mrs. Townsend! He might have said nothing, leaving it to the maid's deduction whom the glass was intended for, or he might have handed her the glass himself.

Mrs. Townsend! He might have which might have been so sweet was a reproach.

They heard a pounding on the carpeted stairs, a sudden clatter on the veranda, and Bud, freshly dressed and glowing after his recent swim, joined them.

"Tea?" Lottie asked. "Did you have a good swim, Bud?"

"No tea, thanks. Yes, I had a fine swim." To Barry he said, "I'm going down to the plane. Is that o. k.?"

Barry nodded and Bud flung himself into the rickety automobile and started off.

He called back, "Bobby Jones won't like you if we keep landing on the fairway, Barry! How's the airport coming?"

"Not very well. Maybe I'll get you to handle it," Barry answered amiably.

"Any time you say," called Bud. "He drives well, doesn't he?" said Mona, watching him career out through the gate on a single wheel and disappear in a tunnel of green trees beyond.

"He does everything well," Barry replied. "It was a great idea to send him down here. Been a big help to us. I guess Bud was just about at the turning point. He was all set to amount to something—either something pretty fine or just the opposite."

Mona nodded in agreement. "It was awfully good of you," she said softly. "I don't believe I've even thanked you."

"Oh, we've had our thanks all right. Bud himself, looking as he does today, is thanks enough."

There was coolness in Barry's tone and Mona felt it. She was silent for some time.

Then after a little she said, "Does he handle any of the selling for you?"

Barry nodded again. "He does and he's clever at it, too. There's a fellow named Horton—"

How could Barry know about that? Had he seen Bud? Then she understood that of course he had while she was sleeping.

"There's a man named Horton who's a tough customer. He gave us a good price for uncut diamonds because Bud—"

"Why don't you let Bud tell her that, boy?" suggested Steve casually. He turned to Mona. "Barry is always bragging about Bud. I tell him the boy's head will be turned."

The scent of the honeysuckle came nearer and nearer. They could hear the sea spilling and crashing along the beach. Lottie, rising, beckoned Steve to join her at the edge of the terrace.

Mona was alone with Barry at last. What was he going to say? How would he begin? With reproaches? With a demand for explanations?

Instead Barry, too, rose from his chair. "Don't take Lottie away," he called. "I promised the girls we'd take them for a drive. We ought to be starting or it will be too late. The roadster is in order, isn't it?"

"Never better!" Steve agreed. Cupping his hands together and raising them to his mouth, he shouted, "Oh, boy! Bring around the roadster!"

ARRANGE PROGRAM OF 5-H MEMBERS

Members of the 5-H club are planning an active year. Running the 4-H summer camp, the achievement day program and the Davis convention, or at least Orange county's share of it, are a continuance of the past year's program. A demonstration team is also planned, probably on the subject of cover crops for Orange orchards. Tours to adjoining counties to familiarize the members with conditions and club work in a larger way are scheduled. One recreational event, a beach party during the summer, is planned. The 5-H club, being composed of older 4-H club members, has a more advanced schedule than the regular 4-H group.

A STATEMENT TO CONSUMERS By Southern California Edison Company Ltd.

We who are managing the affairs of this Company do not own it. We are managing it as your employees, and as the employees of your neighbors whose savings are invested in the property used for your service as a customer. As such employees, we are inviting your attention to the threat to increase your taxes as users of electric service which is involved in a bill pending before the California Legislature, proposing an increase of the percentage taken for taxes from each dollar you pay for electric service.

The cost of electric service to the users must include the tax on the property used in providing that service. If the taxes on electric service are raised, your tax bill is raised. Even now, every time you pay a dollar for electric service, more than 10 cents of the dollar goes to the tax collector — 7½ cents to the State, the balance for Federal taxes. While it is argued that this legislative proposal is designed to shift taxes to the shoulders of "public utility corporations," the fact is that this burden is to be shifted to your shoulders and not to that of some mythical corporation.

This is tax juggling — not tax reduction. You, the people who are now paying the taxes, will still be paying the taxes, and an increase in the utility tax will only result in your paying more taxes.

The users of electric service are responsible for the building up of property of the electric companies. The Southern California Edison Company Ltd. has passed on to its customers rate reductions as rapidly as the increased use of its service made reductions possible. This policy has been continuously observed, as demonstrated by the fact that ten voluntary major rate reductions and numerous minor reductions have been made in the past ten years, resulting in a reduced cost of electric service of from 30% to more than 50% to the average consumer, and this during a period when other living costs were rising. As a consequence no large surplus available to meet extraordinary demands has been accumulated, and such surplus as the Company has is invested in its property.

The rate reductions made by the Company from 1921 to the end of 1932 are saving annually to consumers in excess of $7,000,000.

From the biennium 1923-25 to the biennium 1931-33 the biennial General Fund expenditures of the State have been increased from $91,285,170 to $148,923,816.

An increase in taxes will indefinitely postpone if not prevent further rate reductions. Good faith on the part of the State government towards the users of electric service would seem to require that the rate reductions which they have earned in the past should not now be taken away by rate increases. This is no time for increasing the costs of production. An increase in the State tax on utility gross receipts at this time would be still harder to bear by reason of the fact that the Federal government recently imposed an additional 3% tax which two-thirds of our consumers are now paying.

While those who have invested their savings in this property which serves you, are still receiving a modest amount for the use of those savings, this payment is possible only because these owners did not receive and the Company's rates did not produce high returns in times of prosperity. The property has not been over-built. We believe it has been well managed.

We believe that Agriculture and the Industries, being basic to the economic and social welfare of California, and now alike suffering the most drastic results of the Depression, are in no condition to assume the burden of increased electric rates which would naturally and inevitably follow an increase of State tax rates exacted from the electric utilities. The welfare of the State imperatively demands a reduction of taxes rather than an increase of taxes in any form.

BOARD FACES TAX BOOST OR DEEPER CUTS

School Budget Director Everett Boynton, meeting with the Santa Ana board of education last night presented preliminary data for the board's consideration as the first step toward preparation of the school budget for 1933-34.

In presenting the data Boynton pointed out that the decline in school revenues without a corresponding decline in attendance presents the difficult problem of caring for an increasing number of pupils with a diminishing income. To meet this situation, the report pointed out it will be necessary to increase the tax rates or effect further retrenchment.

Boynton's report cited four major factors affecting the finances of Santa Ana schools. The first of these factors was withdrawal of the Newport Harbor district with $9,000,000 of assessed valuation. Other factors in the order in which they were listed are: diminishing county support of schools; declining assessed valuations; and increasing tax delinquencies.

A chart based on the 1932-33 operating budget showed that $317,000 or 40.6 per cent of this year's expenditures went to the elementary schools; 22 per cent or $172,012 to junior high schools; 21.8 per cent or $169,901 to the senior high school; and 14.4 per cent or $112,135 to the junior college. Adult education received 1.2 per cent of the school expenditures of $9753.

Sources Shown
The total estimated revenue for 1933-33 was $974,211 of which 50 per cent of $487,106 came from Santa Ana school district. This money was raised 67 per cent or $328,857 for operating expenses and 11 per cent or $102,410 for school bonds. The state contributed 23 per cent, or $227,244 and the county, outside of Santa Ana added 15 per cent which amounted to $150,409. Accrued surplus accounted for $98,854, or 10 per cent of the revenue and two per cent, $13,437, came from miscellaneous sources.

Total estimated expenditures during 1933-33 were $954,981 of which 67 per cent or $640,393 was expended as salaries. Of this amount $375,322, or 59 per cent of the total, was teachers' salaries. The remaining eight per cent was for non-certificated employees.

Bond interest and redemption amounting to $183,180 took 19 per cent of the funds and seven per cent, or $64,295 was expended on supplies. Maintenance operations cost five per cent which amounted to $49,575 and the remaining two per cent or $16,538 went for capital outlay.

Estimates Revenue
Boynton's preliminary estimate of revenues for 1933-34 set the total revenue at $778,200 which after an estimated $49,750 for transfers and $31,000 total for reserve funds is deducted will leave $697,350 as available net income.

The state it is estimated will contribute $223,793; the county $258,600; Santa Ana district $233,000 and an additional $62,706 will come from miscellaneous sources. The unbudgeted reserve will get $7000 and the general reserve will get $7000. The delinquent tax reserve, if 10 per cent only is allowed for delinquencies, will amount to $23,300.

Comparing the estimated $697,350 net available income for 1933-34 with the 1932-33 budget of $781,801, it will be necessary to reduce expenditures for next year $84,451, or 11 per cent to even balance the budget. Boynton pointed out that if greater tax delinquency reserves are set up, the slash will be greater.

RETURNS OF NORTHERN COUNTY
EXCHANGE NEARLY $5,000,000
ON 5731 CARS OF CITRUS FRUIT

Total returns for citrus fruits marketed through the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange were within a few thousand dollars of $5,000,000, according to reports made Monday at the annual meeting in Fullerton by George Crawford, secretary manager. This return, F. O. B., was from 12 packing houses of nine associations.

According to the report, the citrus business during the past year was outstanding among all those in the agricultural field, in that it paid to its average producer the cost of raising his crop.

Although comparisons were not given in detail with returns of other years, the report read, "The f. o. b. return of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange was 79.6 per cent of the preceding year, on all varieties. The f. o. b. returns of this exchange on a packed basis were 86.6 per cent of last year. It should be explained that this contained a larger percentage of lemons than last year, on which the returns were higher than 1931."

Total shipments were 4163 cars of valencias; 294 cars of navelis; 41 cars of grapefruit; four cars of miscellaneous; 613 cars of lemons; 673 cars of loose oranges; six cars of loose grape fruit and 32 cars of loose lemons, a total of 5731 cars.

PROMOTION AT MID-YEAR MAY BE ABANDONED

Mid-year promotion of students in the elementary schools will gradually be eliminated according to a report submitted to the Santa Ana Board of Education last night by Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson. He said that lack of registration of new students for the second semester indicated that parents did not care to have their children start in a mid-semester or "irregular" class.

Henderson was given authority to instruct principals of the elementary schools to take steps as soon as possible to eliminate the mid-year promotion and substitute the annual promotion.

Henderson submitted a report of registration in the elementary schools showing that students in the "A" classes, entering school at the beginning of the first semester, in the majority of grades more than double the number in "B" or second semester classes. In submitting his report, Henderson said "There is no biological reason why more students should enter school in September than in February, yet the fact remains that they do."

In the elementary schools for this year there were 2216 children enrolled in the first six grades in September and 1283 new students in the February of "B" classes. The report: kindergarten, 120 in B classes and 338 in A; first grade, 244 in B and 394 in A; second grade, 187 B and 333 A; third grade, 185 B and 316 A; fourth grade, 178 B and 287 A; fifth grade, 186 B and 306 A; sixth grade, 183 B and 336 A.

SURPRISES DUE IN 'BERKELEY SQUARE'
Santa Anas are due for several surprises in "Berkeley Square," the Community Players' production to be presented Friday and Saturday nights in the Ebell playhouse.

Carson Smith, whose dramatic abilities have been keenly enjoyed by local playgoers since his high school days, has one of the most difficult as well as clever parts in the forthcoming play. As Mr. Throastle, erstwhile suitor to Helen Pettigrew, played by Edith Ellis, he is said to handle the typical Englishman role perfectly. As a dandified, fussy, precious little man about 40 Smith is said to assume the "Throastle" role, even to the monocle, very adeptly.

Wylie Carlyle promises another outstanding bit of acting as Tom Pettigrew, brother of Kate and Helen. As a "town buck," with coarse, brutal and antagonistic manner under its veneer of good breeding, Carlyle is bound to enliven the plot of the play, which with its interwoven episodes of modern and eighteenth century charm is attracting a live sale of tickets.

MEASURE ON TERM CHANGES IS SUBMITTED
Reporting for the committee on changing the law governing election of school board members, Dr. Margaret Baker read the proposed change in the law at the meeting of the Santa Ana board of education last night.

The proposed amendment was prepared by Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton and provides five year terms for board members instead of the four years they now serve. The law, under the proposal would become effective in 1935 and following election of a committee now being to succeed the present group the members would, at their first meeting, determine which member would leave office at the end of one year and each succeeding year.

A new member would be elected at the end of the year and every year thereafter. It was pointed out that this proposed change would eliminate the practice of having school affairs turned over to an inexperienced board every four years and would have the school affairs in experienced hands at all times.

Under the law, the proposed change in the law cannot be made without the consent of all school boards in cities of the fifth class in the state. Ventura is the only other city of this class in the state and Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson was instructed to contact the superintendent of schools there and discuss the matter.

Discussing the proposed change in the election law W. M. Burke said that he would favor election of two members every two years.

WOMAN IMPROVING FROM STAIR FALL
FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—Mrs. A. L. Porter, who fell when the outside stairway from a tankhouse broke with her on it last week, and threw her down a bank, breaking and almost severing her foot just above the ankle, is said to be improving. Hopes are felt she will not lose the foot. She has been in a serious condition at the Fullerton General hospital.

Instead of holding an election each year, he said that an election each year would decrease the public interest in school elections to the detriment of the schools.

Dramatic Review Wins Plaudits of Ebell Clubwomen

The intimate dramatic flavor which characterized Rose Franklin's New York success, "Another Language," was given interpretation of a high order by Miss Beatrice Edmonds, guest reviewer, in an appearance before Santa Ana Ebell society in Ebell clubhouse Monday afternoon. A measure of her success was apparent in the persistent applause following her performance, which drew her back to the stage for further ovation and acknowledgment.

Miss Edmonds' grasp on the play's situation and her relative sympathy for the several characters involved was felt throughout the story's telling, while her apt characterization and appreciation of dramatic mood resulted in an arduous interpretation very nearly as convincing as a visual production.

Based upon a network of family relationships, the drama unfolds as the story of a family whose sons are dominated by their mother. Three daughters-in-law, resentful but unsuccessful in their protestations, are indirectly bound by this same personality. The comparative freedom of a fourth daughter-in-law, Stella, her rejection of the Hallam mold and the consequent resentment of the brothers, envy of their wives and veiled enmity of the mother, result in an emotional tangle. The mutual understanding which arises between Stella and a young nephew, who find they speak "another language," develops a crisis which leads to the beginning of a new understanding between Stella and her husband, the youngest Hallam son, as the drama closes.

Based with the complexities of 11 characters, Miss Edmonds rose capably to the occasion with skillful interpretations of each and with a subtle comprehension of theme which she was able to convey, gratifyingly, to her audience.

Mrs. Fred C. Rowland, first vice president, occupied the chair in the necessary absence of the president, Mrs. Paul Bailey, confined to her home with illness. During the business interval announcement was made by Mrs. Lena Hewitt regarding the status of the Day Nursery and of the approaching card party for its benefit; by Mrs. S. B. Marshall regarding the bridge affair to be given in Ebell clubhouse Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Ebell Modern Poetry section, and by Major Earl B. Hawks, commander of Jack Fisher chapter, D. A. V., who asked the club's support of the annual D. A. V. Military ball February 22.

First of Pre-Wedding Parties Given for Miss Boyd

Following immediately after the disclosure of Miss Beatrice Boyd's betrothal and approaching marriage to Attorney R. Franklin Rowe of Los Angeles were interesting plans of various Santa Ana friends of the attractive bride-elect, to entertain in her honor. The first of several pre-nuptial events calendered, was that given last night when Miss Boyd and a group of her close friends responded to invitations issued by Mrs. L. A. Turner, 1026 Greenleaf street.

It was a charming valentine day effect which Mrs. Turner achieved by adorning her home with many graceful flowers of early spring. Card tables were scattered about the spacious rooms for a bridge contest, for which tally cards suggested the romance both of the season and the honoree. To Miss Beatrice Boyd, sister of the honor guest, and Miss Lu Pomeroy, went identical prize awards of the daintiest of handkerchiefs, Miss Boyd's reward for high score, and Miss Pomeroy's, consolation for low.

At the same time Mrs. Turner took the opportunity to present a guest prize to Miss Beatrice Boyd, who to her delight, found a whole assortment of lovely articles for her trousseau, selected as shower gifts from the guests assembled. Concluding the evening's pleasant features, the hostess spread card tables with immaculate linens, centering each with a graceful arrangement of blossoms to emphasize a vernal color scheme of yellow and pale green and served an inviting salad course.

Bidden to share Mrs. Turner's pleasant hospitality, were her honor guest, Miss Boyd, the Misses Mary Pomeroy, Lu Pomeroy, Dorothy Boyd, Alice Boyd, Berenice Boyd, Lola Skaggs, Berenice Menzies, Charlotte Harnois and Georgia Turner, Mesdames Don Dearth, Mildred Reinhardt, Mildred Fletcher, Lawrence Cameron, all of this city and Mrs. Mildred Livespire Larimer of Alhambra.

Puppeteers Honored at Parties Arranged by Miss Bowyer

Miss Mary Bowyer of this city and Orange was twice a hostess Sunday when she entertained at dinner for Bob Bromley and Ray Smith of Los Angeles, directors of the Olvera Puppets, theatrical show prominent on the famed Olvera street, and later in the evening for a group of friends invited in to meet the two visitors. Others sharing the dinner courtesy were Mrs. Leland S. Auer (Lois Rees) of Los Angeles, formerly of this city and Anaheim; and Victor Rees of Anaheim.

The two Los Angeles guests provided amusing performances for the evening arrivals with a number of puppets brought from their Los Angeles show. Among these marionettes were "Greta Garbo," a dancer of India, a Harlem trollop and a gentleman doll presented as "The Specialist."

Still further entertainment was afforded in the ingenious jigsaw puzzles designed by Lyle Forman, one of the guests, whose popular contrivances challenged the finest jigsaw puzzle minds in the company.

The evening's closing pleasure proved a fitting climax, Miss Bowyer serving her guests with a combination of appetizing Italian dishes.

Mrs. A. M. Tweedie and son Bill, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Glover have moved from their former residence at 1320 South Van Ness avenue to 523 South Sycamore street.

W. C. T. U. Observes Its Annual Memorial to Frances Willard

In common with Women's Christian Temperance unions all over the country, Santa Ana union yesterday observed the yearly memorial to Frances E. Willard, meeting, according to custom, with Mrs. Theo. A. Winbinger and Mrs. C. W. Burns, in the Winbinger home, 207 East Ninth street.

In advance of the memorial program, the union had its usual business session, conducted by president, Mrs. Amy Evans, with devotional services led by Mrs. S. E. Hearn, who read the Crusade Psalm (146th) and verses from First Thessalonians. Such appropriate hymns as "I Love to Tell the Story" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," were sung, with Mrs. W. B. Snow graciously playing accompaniments.

Joint Memorial

Mrs. Winbinger introduced the various program numbers, explaining that in looking over papers of her mother, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, own cousin to Frances E. Willard, she had found articles written by Mrs. Mills that had direct bearing on the day and its observance. These articles, read aloud, provided one of the most beautiful memorial services in the history of the Santa Ana union, and at the same time proved a memorial to Mrs. Mills as well.

Mrs. L. Warren read the first article, written many years ago by Mrs. Mills on the Crusades, drawing and analogy between the Crusades for temperance and those of the eleventh century to recover the Holy Land from Mohammedanism. The first national W. C. T. U. convention was described as having occurred in Cleveland in 1874, launching the famous Crusade movement.

In reading the paper, Mrs. Warren paid touching tribute to its author, declaring her to have been the "foundation of union work in Orange county." The Crusade song, "Faith of Our Mothers," written by Mrs. Irvine, seemed a suitable sequel to this paper, and was beautifully sung as a solo by Mrs. Harry Hayes.

Another paper written by Mrs. Mills, evidently for the Memorial service of 1907, four years after the passing of Miss Willard, was read by Eleanor Young Elliott, and seemed in its vital message of courage and faith to bring both Miss Willard and Mrs. Mills very close to the faithful workers assembled. It closed with the poem, "A Memory," written by Kate Lunden Sunderlin.

Maurice Phillips, one of the city's favorite soloists, sang "Crossing the Bar," selecting the Dudley Buck arrangement, with Mrs. Snow again at the piano, as for other solos and community singing.

"Rest Cottage"

Mrs. S. M. Davis read the booklet on "Rest Cottage," Miss Willard's home in Evanston, Ill., the copy of which had been presented to Mrs. Mills by Anna B. Gordon, faithful secretary to the great temperance worker. Following this, Mrs. C. F. Crose told of having visited the home, where evidences of Miss Willard's occupancy remain unchanged to this day. Others present added their stories of having been there or having known Miss Willard, the most unusual reminiscences being those of Mrs. Tripp of Miss Willard's girlhood, and later when she knew her and one of her distinguished friends, Lady Somerset.

Mrs. Burns read extracts of the Willard Memorial fund and showed old photographs and pictures, and the program closed with the solo, "My Task," charmingly sung by June Burns (Mrs. Edward H. Burns).

At the tea hour, Mrs. S. H. Davis and Mrs. J. W. Estes were seated at a lace-covered table, where silver candelabra bore tapers as richly crimson as the beautiful roses rising from silver vases, and poured tea to be served with dainty valentine wafers.

Announcements of future meetings included the Southern District institute, to be conducted by state officers in the United Presbyterian church on February 28, with covered dish luncheon at noon, and next week's visit to the W. C. T. U. Home for Women at Eagle Rock, for which Mrs. D. P. Leonard asked for canned fruit and other donations.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM DINNER

Cup tomato beef broth
2 small crackers
Medium sized slice lean meat
2 pats or pan-broiled chopped steak
Small baked potato
Large serving of cauliflower
Mineral oil mayonnaise dressing
Waldorf salad
Black coffee or clear tea. No sugar.
Calory total, 500.

Bouillon cubes and tomato sauce provide a quickly made soup for this meal, in case broth is not at hand.

No butter is allowed for the potato but it will not be missed if the pan gravy from the meat is used. Any amount of cauliflower may be eaten. It is rather good dressed with the mineral oil mayonnaise, but if the mayonnaise on potato and salad will be too much, a teaspoonful of butter melted with a tablespoonful of lemon juice and some paprika may replace the mayonnaise dressing.

The Waldorf salad uses half an apple, diced, a stalk of diced celery, and four halved walnut meats, chopped. Serve on lettuce and dress with either type of mineral oil salad dressing.

Total for the three Eat and Grow Slim meals, 1500.

Today's Recipe

Swedish Ham Broth
3 quarts ham broth
1 cup each, diced celery, carrot, potato
1/2 cup diced onion and turnip
1/2 cup pearl barley
1/2 pound chopped steak

This recipe will interest women who regret the non-use of the liquid in which a good ham has been boiled, and it will further interest them when they know that this ham broth is a nutritious meal, needing only rolls, or toast, and a salad that is both salad and dessert—a fruit salad—to make a complete meal.

Parboil the ham so that the broth will not be too salty. Cook the ham with bay leaves and a few cloves. Strain these out of the broth before using for soup.

To the ham broth add the diced vegetables and pearl barley, bring to a quick boil, cover, reduce heat and simmer for three hours. A quarter-hour before serving add the chopped steak, pinching off tiny bits, dropping them into the boiling soup to poach.

This soup is rather thick, so serve with both soup spoon and fork. Twenty-five cents should cover the cost of everything used in the soup... an extremely inexpensive "main dish" to serve six, don't you think?

Evenly divided between six people the individual calory value is approximately 200. If only 1 cupful of the soup-stew is served, its calory value is approximately 100.

This soup is allowable on the Eat and Grow Slim menus.

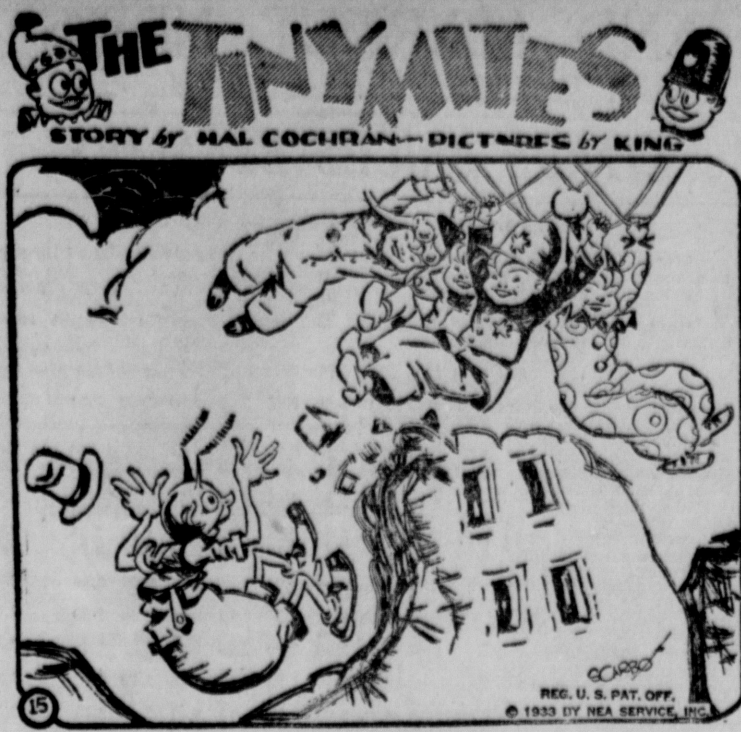

Thursday: Roast crown roast of pork, and how to prepare at home.

Announcements

Junior Ebell Travel section members have opened to their friends the talk and motion pictures on "Tahiti," to be given tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Ebell clubhouse by H. L. Sherman of this city and Newport Beach. Miss Dorothy Forgy, leader, has extended an invitation to all persons interested.

The Girls' Ebell dramatics class will meet tomorrow at 6:45 o'clock in Ebell clubhouse.

The sketch of Duncy was real good. "Well, son, I did the best I could," the valentine man told him. "It was just a joke on you."

"At least I got a valentine," laughed Duncy, "and I think it's fine. Gee, having jokes pulled off on me is really nothing new."

"The Tynmies always pick on me, but I'm as cheerful as can be. I figure, why should I get mad, if things are done in fun?"

Some folks are different. It's too bad when little jokes make people mad. 'Tis best to laugh at every little silly thing that's done."

Then Scouty said, "It's almost noon. Say, where did we leave our balloon? I think we should be leaving here. We've been here long enough."

"Of course, we don't know where we're bound, but some new place can soon be found. The wind's died down, so riding through the air will not be rough."

"Your big balloon is safe and sound. Right in my house it can be found," the valentine man told them. "Gee, I hate to see you go."

"But I don't blame you Tynmies for sailing round to see the sights. The more you see in this big world, the more you're bound to know."

The Tynmies then bid him good-by, and shortly sailed off in the sky. The big balloon just drifted and the trip was lots of fun.

They rode for 'bout an hour, or more. Then Coppy said, "My limbs are sore. I wish we'd land." And Scouty cried, "You're not the only one."

"I, too, would like to reach the ground." The big balloon then whirled around and settled slowly down to earth. Cried Windy, "What a thrill!"

"I see right now where we will land. Upon a great big pile of sand." And, when they did, one Tynmy cried, "Why, it's a large ant hill."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Wheat sold off from the highs after making gains of more than a cent. Corn, but retained, retained advanced as offerings were readily absorbed.

A major factor in the stock market, bullish crop reports and higher cables brought in general buying in the early trading and prices rose sharply.

Export demand showed improvement and domestic cash demand. Reports from Indiana suggested crop damage from the recent cold wave. Country marketings in Canada continued high.

At the close wheat was $\frac{1}{2}$ cent higher, corn and oats were $\frac{1}{4}$ cent higher.

LONG'S BROTHER SAYS A WORD

Senator Long is accused by his brother of accepting $10,000 from a public utility representative during his campaign for governor five years ago. His brother is clear and specific. He states that he saw the money, described the bills, declares they were placed in Long's bath robe pocket, and then he proceeds to connect Long's political activities with the use of money in "putting things over," and getting things done, that is entirely contrary to any claim by Long that he is really representing in any decent way, the public interest.

To be sure, we do not know which is telling the truth. Neither Huey Long, who is alleged to have received the money, nor the representative of the public utilities, would be expected to agree with Long's brother's statement. While it does not appear probable that Long's brother can bring in corroborating witness to the incident to which he refers, yet there is evidence, to which he calls attention, that might be corroborative as a witness to the specific transaction.

He declares that Senator Long's assault upon the utilities, and his actions, and the net result of what he claimed he was doing were really helpful to the utilities, and against his publicly stated program. In other words, that he "double-crossed" the people.

Senator Long is an unusual character. He is loomed large in the public eye. He is a young man less than 40 years of age. The record of his public life, which encompasses the period almost before he was of age, does not tend to produce confidence in his integrity, or intellectual honesty. Dramatic, spectacular, illogical, inconsistent, he is now charged with virtual bribery, although the transaction took place before he was elected to the office which he was seeking.

We would like to think the type of men to which Senator Long belongs, could be elected only in certain sections of this country. But we know better. The American people love to be "humbugged." And the louder the "hum," the greater enjoyment they seem to get out of it. But we should think the taxpayers of Louisiana, with the burden that Long placed on them, would eventually lose their sense of humor, when it is associated with Long.

MR. FARLEY GETS BUSY

James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, makes a proposition to wipe out the national committee deficit between now and inauguration. It requires $750,000 to accomplish this feat. He said it can be collected much more easily between March 4th and the 4th of March than afterwards.

He proposes to collect it from members of the Democratic party all over the country. It is a pretty suggestion. Men who are seeking appointment at the hands of the President, can hardly refuse to "come across" with contributions commensurate to some extent with the importance of the positions which they seek.

If they refuse to do so, the recommendation of the national committee might have considerable weight respecting the position. It is not very likely that those who rush to the aid of the party now, when it is trying to get itself out of debt, would be penalized for so doing, when it came to appointments, to say the least. Those who do not consider the importance of getting the party out of debt of such value as to help out a little, could hardly be expected to have a claim for an important appointment. And on the other hand, the president-elect cannot be charged with having anything to do with it. He hasn't. He isn't yet President. His hands will be absolutely free.

You cannot expect him to utterly ignore the recommendations of the national committee. Of course it will be rather irksome upon some of the candidates, in fact it will be a positive hardship, we should judge, upon some of the men who are seeking appointments. Many of them are after the appointments because of extreme personal need, and this burden would be well nigh impossible to meet. We wonder if Mr. Farley wouldn't accept promises to pay, and then grant a moratorium to those who, after March 4th, did not receive sufficient salary to enable them to meet their obligation.

We want to congratulate Mr. Farley on his astuteness. Spreading $750,000 over the office seekers, who run into large numbers, is a way to raise taxes in a manner that will hurt the taxpayer the least.

REVELATIONS AT INMAN HEARING

Some strange testimony was adduced before the Inman investigating committee yesterday. A bank official who sold the property for a hospital site in Ventura county was testifying.

He declared he had talked to Dr. Toner, the Director of Institutions, concerning this site, and Dr. Toner expressed surprise to him that a bank of the size which this man represented, would attempt to sell such property, except through a broker. Dr. Toner said he might recommend such a man, and that he did recommend such a man. This man represented the selling company, and later received $20,250 as a commission, and another commission of the same size was paid another gentleman. It is declared that $10,000 of this $20,000 commission that was paid to this gentleman, who was recommended by Dr. Toner, went to a "high" state official. The taxpayers of California certainly should know the conditions under which property for state institutions is purchased. When commissions are paid selected individuals and these commissions are divided and swapped around, it is easily possible that the judgment of those who determine upon the site and how much to pay for the site, is being made up, directly or indirectly by payments to themselves or friends, or both.

Money, under these circumstances, comes not out of the seller of the property, but right out of the state funds, and it may be only a small portion of the excess which the state pays by reason of this kind of a transaction. It is to be hoped that the committee will get to the bottom of this and other transactions of like character, for the cleansing of our political life, and for the pockets of our taxpayers.

CUBAN SUGAR PRODUCED BY SLAVES

The conditions under which sugar is raised and manufactured in Cuba are under investigation. The sugar men declare that it is raised under conditions of virtual slavery, and that sugar so raised, ought not to be permitted to compete with sugar raised under our free labor conditions. They are asking for an increase of the general duty from 2.5 to 3.45 cents per pound.

The sugar industry should be protected, and it should be protected certainly from such conditions of labor. It may be exceedingly fortunate for the poor devils down in Cuba to have an investigation conducted in America, of the conditions under which they labor. It forces an interest in them by people who might otherwise be indifferent to their welfare.

Of course it may be possible that if this duty is increased, more rigorous peonage would be practiced in Cuba, in order to make up a part of the difference. Instead of putting a price on which they would permit this sugar, or any other commodity to be imported, that is so made, it ought to be declared that it could not be admitted under any circumstances or at any price. This possibility would be a greater help to the "slave," than putting a price on it.

Flight Comes to Earth

Christian Science Monitor

It is not unthinkable that when a father takes his son to the museum half-a-century hence, the lad may be puzzled by a queer boxlike contraption with rods, smokestacks and all manner of gadgets fastened to the outside. And, should he ask, "Did people really ride in those things?" his indulgent parent will be forced to reply, "Yes, William, that's what a train looked like in the pre-rail Zeppelin days."

For plans of the German railways to put new high-speed streamline electric trains in regular passenger operation give commercial sanction to an engineering achievement. Many technicians, among them excellent German engineers, have been emphasizing the importance of aerodynamics to ordinary transport. They have shown the great savings in power as well as the gains in speed that result by applying to ordinary vehicles the lessons of overcoming air resistance that have been learned in the conquest of the air.

Yet it is one thing for an engineer to prove that, because of its streamlines, an ostrich egg has less air resistance than a ten-cent piece. It is another thing to develop light, stream-lined trains upon a basis where they can be made economically practical. Sufficient saving in time must be offered to justify the additional fares which, in the early stages at least, must be charged for such service.

Here the trial trip of the "Flying Hamburger," streaking between Berlin and Hamburg at an average speed of seventy-six miles an hour, affords a comparison that has been somewhat overlooked. Its record of 178 miles in 146 minutes has been widely compared with current train speeds. But the Reichsbahn's "rail Zeppelin" came within a half-hour of equaling the scheduled airplane time between the two German cities.

The Berlin-Hamburg roadbed, regarded as one of the best on the Continent—flat, and practically as straight as a billiard cue—fers an exceptional opportunity for the "rail Zeppelin" to perform at its best. Contemplated placing of similar although somewhat less powered streamlined cars upon western German schedules will not encounter such ideal conditions nor will such speed be possible.

But as the high-speed trains develop in service, and as increasing mechanical refinements become possible through experience, it is not too much to expect that the rail service will more closely approach present air speeds. The prospect does not cause German aeronautical designers any concern. They say it will simply be necessary to build faster aircraft. Already they are looking toward the stratosphere, searching for tremendous speeds, and ready to jet rockets, if they can, approximate the records of today. Distance, by now accustomed seeing its potency pale, can look forward to making new concessions on the face of the earth as well as in the air.

Private Citizen Calls Up

New York Times

Mr. Roosevelt, as our Washington correspondent, is inclined to believe, has been in direct touch with Prime Minister MacDonald by telephone, cable, wireless, the mails or all four methods of communication. This gives rise to a question. Who will defray the cost of such interchanges on this side? Talking over the transatlantic telephone is not cheap.

Mr. MacDonald need not worry, because he is the head of the British Government and can put it on his expense account. But Mr. Roosevelt is a private citizen. At least he was unquestionably a private citizen up to 1 o'clock on Wednesday, when both houses of Congress met and read the returns from the Electoral Colleges in the forty-eight States and found that Roosevelt and Garner are elected. Mr. Roosevelt will probably remain a private citizen until March when it comes to telephone and wire bills.

Another question is whether Mr. Roosevelt as private citizen has not been laying himself open to the penalties of the Logan act, which makes it a crime for an American citizen to enter into formal negotiations with foreign governments. But the more important of the two problems is the telephone bill.

Denver Favors Experts

New York Times

Colorado is the first commonwealth, so far as any records exist, to have an official State Liar. A resident of Denver has just been appointed to that post by Governor Johnson, who has long entertained the conviction that too much lying was being done around the State Capitol in a miscellaneous and uncoordinated fashion. It is a form of work-sharing in which the Governor apparently does not believe. He has gone so far in these times of drastic economy as to set apart a salary of $1 a year for the first incumbent of the newly created office.

What helps to make the incident all the more pleasing is that the appointment is wholly free from considerations of politics and patronage. It was decided entirely on merit and in accordance with civil service standards. Colorado's new State Liar was recently proclaimed champion liar of the United States by the Liars club of Burlington, Wis.

More Truth Than Poetry

INCURABLE

I had a little asset
And tended it with care.
Said I to me: "I soon shall be
A big rich millionaire.
I'll send it to the market
Where it will earn and earn,
And every year will reappear
To bring a big return."
But though I watched and watched it,
Beneath my very nose
One chilly, gray and gloomy day,
My little asset froze.

I had another asset—
A fairly big one too;
I loved to sit and look at it
The while it grew and grew.
It never seemed to weaken
Or suffer a decline.
"Aha!" I said, "before I'm dead
A fortune shall be mine."
But for my optimism
I paid a fearful price.
I sit and mope, devoid of hope;
My asset's on the ice.

I may have other assets
In some more lucky year.
But I have vowed and vowed aloud,
I'll spend them while they're here.
No more I'll seek to double
The income that they bring.
Nor run the chance that they'll advance
And hold their upward swing.
I mean to keep them working
As long as they are hot;
But I confess, with some distress,
That I'm afraid I'll not.

Me and pop was taking a walk before supper and I said, G. pop, here's the bird and animal store, here's your chance to go in and see that little dog I told you about.

I'm not taking chances today, thank you, pop said.

Him not liking any dogs on general principals on account of having been bit by a few, and I said, Well, G. pop, come on in and at least look at him, and then if you don't like him then at least nobody can't say you was prejudiced without even seeing him, and pop said, Show me the animal, but I warn you in advance that if it's a dog I won't like him, and if that's narrow minded so's your old man.

Me thinking, G. hurray. And we went in the store and the little white dog with spots was in there sitting on some straw in a box, and he sat there looking at us with his head on one side cute as anything, pop saying, Is that it? Well where's all this grate difference between him and other dogs? He seems to have 4 legs and a movable tail the same as any other dog I ever saw, he said, and I said, Well, G. pop, gosh, don't you notice his expression? Look how he looks? I said.

He's not looking through his ears by any chance, is he? pop said. And just then the dog jumped up and started to lick pop's hand, and the dog man said, Well, now that's strange. I was beginning to think he didn't have a sociable disposition, you're the first person he's made up to like that.

"Really?" pop said looking proud as anything, and just then another man came in, saying, That's a cute little puppy, and what did the dog do but start to lick his hand too, the man saying, Well, he seems to have the habit now, but you're the one that tamed him.

No doubt, no doubt, well good evening, pop said. And he started to walk out, the man saying, I'll put the puppy in the window so he can say good by to you.

And me and pop went out, me saying, G. pop, look at him in the window, he's waving to you with his tail, and pop saying, I'll look strait ahead and mind my own business.

Proving he was weakening any ways.

Efficiency of the packing house and equipment of the Irvine Walnut association, was shown in the first annual report of the association which showed that on the first pool, the cost of delivering on cars was $15.95, or about three-fourths of a cent per pound. The included bags, bleaching, insurance, and all costs connected with handling the nuts in the walnut house. A. J. McFadden was re-elected president of the association at the first annual meeting.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BLOOD-SUCKING OR BOOSTING

There is a vast amount of superficial thinking regarding government expenditures.

There is a type of business mind in the United States which seemingly assumes that government expenditure, regardless of its purpose, is a drag upon the private enterprise of the nation.

Is it true that a wholesale and indiscriminate contraction of government expenditures will necessarily promote an expansion of profitable private business? I venture the suggestion that, even in as difficult a time as this, government expenditures may be a process of boosting rather than of blood-sucking so far as private business enterprise have been made possible by government expenditures related thereto.

One obvious illustration will suffice.

One of the major factors, if not the major factor, in the period of amazing prosperity that preceded the 1929 crash was the rapid development of the automobile industry.

It is important to remember that this rapid development of the automobile industry would have been utterly impossible apart from the extremely generous government expenditures on highways.

The government expenditures for highways grew as the production and sale of automobiles grew.

In 1904, when $25,000,000 worth of automobiles was being produced and sold, government expenditure on highways was less than $100,000,000.

In 1925, the automobile industry had boosted its output to $2,000,000,000 and government expenditures for highways had grown to $1,500,000,000.

In other words, in 1925 we had privately invested in automobiles approximately $18,000,000,000 and had publicly invested in automobile highways approximately $1,500,000,000.

In an earlier day, when the great railroad systems were being developed, government expenditure in the form of right-of-way and other land grants supplemented the development of the railroad industry just as government expenditure in the form of highway development has supplemented the development of the automobile industry.

It may well be that we have reached a point in highway development at which we may wisely reduce the scale and speed of public investment, but the principle of fruitful co-operation between government expenditure and private business development remains valid.

THE SHELTERING HAND

"Mother, will you come to school with me today?"

"What for?"

"I have to ask the principal for a new program. Miss Minnie says if I get permission from him I can go ahead a grade in math, and that gives me two points ahead of the game. I need them, and anyway Miss Minnie told me to go and she'll ask me. Will you come with me, Ma?"

"I don't see why you can't do that simple thing for yourself."

"Oh, he's kinda funny. He'll ask me all kinds of questions and, oh, I don't want to go alone. I can't. You have to come with me."

"Oh, well, if you're going to cry about it, I'll go."

I wouldn't if I were you. It is all very well to put your sheltering hand between your child and harm, but it is more than well to know when to expose the child to the rigors of a cold, impersonal world. It is in that world he will have to make his way, and the sooner he is seasoned to it, the better. He isn't going to meet any more kindly soul than his school principal. Nobody outside his family is going to have the same warm friendliness toward him as he has. Let him do his own asking. That is why the teacher sent him. She could have arranged it without his visit to the office. If you go the lad loses that bit of initiative and experience, and it is precious to him.

The same thing happens at home. Mother or auntie, even the bachelor uncle, softens everyday life for the child in the home circle. Father comes along and rudely orders son or daughter "to trot down street and tell the plumber that if he doesn't come along tomorrow morning and put in that pipe he needn't come along. Dad'll get a real plumber on the job."

"Oh, Dad, I don't want to tell him that. I don't want to go to the plumbers' shop. I don't know him."

"You won't know him any younger. Trot along and tell him what's what. Go ahead. I mean it. Don't you hear me? I'm telling you to do something."

Dad's tone is sharp. He wants action. Immediately mother, Aunt Clara, Uncle Ben and grandma are shush-shushing him. "Now, John, now, John. Can't you see you're making the child nervous? You've upset him. Why don't you think a little?"

That is the finest way to rear a helpless Milquetoast that can be relied on in a lifetime. The sheltering hand has become a smothering clutch. The child reared so delicately that he can't go to the office and ask for a change in program, even when he is armed with his teacher's authority, the lad who can't go down street and say, "Mr. Brasspicles, Dad says to come along tomorrow with that pipe or else—" is in a bad way. The world is going to tramp on his toes so it hurts. The world enjoys nothing so much.

It is right and wise to shield children when they need it. But the aim of all our sheltering and shielding is to send out a man or a woman equipped to hold his own against the crowd. Ease the child out gradually. Take advantage of any little helpful experiences that come along, and don't annihilate father when he offers a boy a chance to speak out under the protection of his father's authority. Welcome the opportunity.

Congress 100 Years Ago

Senate:

In the debate on the revenue collection bill, Holmes of Maine pointed to a portrait of Washington and soliloquized:

"That portrait ought not to be here; it is a cruel admonition upon us, who have rejected his counsels and disregarded his precepts. Look! His lips appear to move and seem to say what he once before said—

"The unity of government, which constitutes you one people is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively directed."

"Why is it that you never see that boy Alfred with the same girl twice?"

"Well, the minister preached a sermon once that made a great impression on him. It was on the text 'Love one another'—but Alfred thought it was 'Love one and then another.'—Pathfinder.
